OUR STORY

From the Talamanca Mountains

Cacao Magic was born on the South Caribbean coast of Costa Rica, where our family lived for six years in Puerto Viejo de Talamanca — three of them inside a traditional Bribri conical house. It was there that the cacao found us: the first taste of the raw, unroasted seed made it clear that this was medicine, and it became our life's work.

Today we craft small batches of ceremonial-grade cacao sourced directly from Bribri women growers of the Talamanca region — a relationship built over ten years of trust, not transactions. Every block, bar, and bag is fully traceable, from the hands that grow it to yours.

Our cacao is never roasted. Low-temperature processing keeps the living seed whole — its full nutritional richness and its ceremonial integrity — so what reaches your customers is cacao as it has been shared in these mountains for generations.

Every wrapper begins as an original painting.

CEREMONY & DAILY PRACTICE

Ceremonial Grade Raw Cacao

100% organic, unroasted cacao from the South Caribbean of Costa Rica

Eat it as it is — start your day with a small piece — melt it into healthy chocolates and drinks, or serve it in a cacao ceremony. This is the heart of everything we make: pure, unroasted, ceremonial-grade cacao in solid blocks, ready to shave, melt, and share.
